Royal Insurance Company.

FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, has appointed an agency in this city. The head-offices are in London and Liverpool with branches in Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The ROYAL is remarkable; for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest life bonuses (£2 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous extent of its transactions, shewing £700,000 in new life assurances for 1862, and a Fire revenue of £360,000 per annum; for its security, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal;" for the accumulated funds in hand, over one million sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling; and for the correct calculation of its mortality tables. Hence the English press of all countries, including over 95 leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this company.

The report for 1862 shews that all the property of the Co. amounting to £810,070 is real and substantial property: "the amount now exceeds one million sterling. The increase, during 14 years, or Fire business was 900 per cent, and on Life 1350 per cent.

Messrs. H. A. GREEN and Co. are authorised to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at moderate premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its foreign business, which already shews an annual revenue of £260,000. Life claims can be settled without reference to England. For further particulars please apply to Rams—Rams—Rams.

The undersigned, in calling attention to his large and superior stock of Rams and Breeding Sheep, begs to inform his Friends in the Campshat he has on hands a splendid collection of animals, from Three Hundred to Five Thousand Dollars, upc., and is confident that each in its class will compete with anything in the province.

In the "Rambouillet type" will be found some fine specimens of the pure blood, besides crossings from the "Merino," possessing the size, shape, and length of staple for which this class is so much admired.

In the "Negrettes" he has also some beautiful animals of pure blood, as likewise the "Negrette" drawn from the "fine Merino," a "Cria" remarkable for compact shape and close heavy wool.

In addition to the above he wishes to draw especial attention to his celebrated Argentine breed, between the "Rambouillet" and "Negrette Ewe," and which, after seven years' experience, he can fully recommend as combining size and shape with length and weight of wool—qualities so anxiously looked for by all experienced sheep-farmers, and which have given so much satisfaction to those who have already purchased of this class. In buying the above in half, three-quarter, and pure blood, already acclimatized, there is an immense advantage, as Rams reared in this country are not so delicate and withstand the winter better than imported animals, besides being sold much cheaper, and only requiring ordinary care.

He can likewise supply the above classes in Ewes, either picked or by the hundred, and wishes to remark that all have been in prime condition throughout the past summer.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The thistles in the camp are so thick and high this year that it is almost impossible to mind sheep or horses. Travellers also experience the greatest inconvenience, as cutting the camp is altogether out of the question, and the only possible way to travel is to follow a 'cañada' or keep to the road. It is not thought that the thistles will fall before next February. Several of our friends have supplied themselves with a light cutting machine patented and sold by Mr. Vandevelt, at No. 245, calle Buen Orden, and we hear that it works admirably. Travelling through the camp is at present attended with the greatest risk as a lot of runaway prisoners, gauchos and others have got into the thistles. On last Wednesday the capataz on Sr. Alvear's estancia in the partido of Pilar was almost assassinated in broad day-light. It appears he was out in the camp looking for some animals, when a fellow jumped out from a thistle-bed, seized the reins and knocked the man off, giving him a most frightful stab in the abdomen; the capataz tried to defend himself with his rebenque and cut the highwayman about the head; at last some of the peons on the estancia came up, pinned the fellow and sent him into Pilar, where he is at present. We hear that the prisoner is one of the fellows who escaped out of prison the other day, and when he heard he was about to be sent to town, he tried to hang himself.

The road from Moreno to Pilar is quite dangerous: two persons have been stopped and an attempt made to rob them, but, thanks to their horses, they got off. The camps about Pilar are very dry and rain is wanted: no sheep or land sales, but several flocks offered on reasonable terms.

We hear that the President has changed his mind about going out to San Isidro and now proposes passing the season at Belgrano. Several of our leading men are anxiously watching whereabouts his Excellency is going to pass the summer in order to be near the Presidential court.

It is the decided and unanimous wish of all parties, both in Buenos Ayres and the provinces that President Mitre at once change his Minister of War. The fearless and independent manner in which our evening colleague, the "Nacional," attacks the Government respecting the Indian invasion deserves our approbation. A Government that cannot keep back the Indians is unworthy the name of Govment. We want a first-rate go-ahead Minister of War, with energy and young blood; Capt. Mansilla we think would do, but has President Mitre the courage to name him?

In the last attack on that devoted little place, Fray Bentos, we notice an act of bravery on the part of an unfortunate rebel which deserves to be recorded. The Government troops, it appears, surprized the rebels, the majority of whom fled, but one poor fellow held his ground and fought bravely against eight soldiers: he fell at last, and the ruffian soldiers, imitating the Russians, cut off the poor fellow's head.

The race on Sunday between two half-breeds promises to be a great affair. The descendant of "Ireland's Glory" is the favorite, and we have no doubt will carry the day—there is a deal of money bet on him.

Mr. Lanuz, Mr. Rom, and Mr. Cornac still keep up the paper dollar war. We hardly know what to say in the matter, but the general belief is that the law, as passed by the legislature, will tend more to smash the bank than redeem the paper money.

The Southern Railway is progressing rapidly—the rails extend now four miles beyond the Lomas de Zamora station, and the contractors say that the road will be open to the public as far as San Vicente within three months from now. A goods-shed is being constructed at the Lomas.

We are glad to hear that some of the celebrated Angora goats, which have been imported here at such great expense, have been sold at from 75 to 100 patacons each. There are still some on sale. We hope the estancieros will buy them, as they appear a most promising investment.

The proposed new bank at Parana we hear is at last finding shareholders, and the people in that city anxiously expect to see it shortly opened.

The Paraguayan steamer which left on Thursday, took up three doctors, ordered out by our friend Surgeon General Steward.

The last news we have from Santiago del Estero is, that the Government is burning treasury bills: 3,480 were consumed by order of the Government.

A branch of the Entre Riano Bank has been formally opened at Gualeguay, and there is is every prospect of its doing a good business. A meeting of the principal shareholders and residents of Gualeguay was held on the 13th inst. for the purpose of naming a committee to carry out the works of the proposed railway from Gualeguay to the port of Ruiz, and also to construct a convenient mole: the people in this go-ahead little town are also subscribing to build a church which is very badly wanted.

To-night the concert comes off at Colon. It promises to be a very splendid affair: we advise our musical friends not to forget to obtain tickets in time.

The Government sent out a special chasque for Gen. Don E. Mitre when the news of the invasion arrived per Pavon: he has not as yet arrived, we believe; but the moment he comes in immediate steps will be taken to defend the road from Rosario to Cordova from the Indians.

Mr. Minelli the celebrated Mar Chiquita Judge, is about to start an Italian paper in Montevideo. We advise him to take care how he opposes the Minister Sor. Barbolani.

Our colleagues have flattering obituary notices of D. Juan Andres Peña who died at an advanced age on Wednesday last. He was the oldest school master in B. Ayres, having educated two generations, during a period bordering on half-a-century. When lately appointed Master of the Model-school the ultra party opposed him on the grounds that he was Gen. Urquiza's school-master, but we are glad to see that politics have not pursued him beyond the grave. A few days before his death he was presented by the Municipality with a medal for "useful services"

On Sunday, 29th inst., there will be a grand function at Colon, of sleight of hand between Professors Abela, Cortes and Valbon. The first is a Maltese who gave some excellent performances at the French Theatre: the other two are natives of Gibraltar. A gold medal will be competed for, and the jury is to be composed of the editors of the daily papers.

To-day we shall have an abundance of news: mails from Corrientes, Paraná, Rosario, San Nicolas, Gualeguaychú, Concepcion, and Montevideo.

M. Carpentier has finally arranged the mail-coach service from Chile to Rosario, and the contract with the Government will soon be published. He will have to expend a considerable amount in making the Planchon pass of the Andes accessible for carriages, and in reforming the postal service on the road through the pampas, receiving in return a right of toll at the Planchon. He expresses the utmost disregard of the Indians.

The British gunboat Spider arrived yesterday from the Uruguay and continued her route to Montevideo.

Among the officers who distinguished themselves recently at the capture of Forts Gaines and Morgan, was a son of the Hon. Mr. Kirk, American Minister in this city.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN CONGRESS.

Some two years ago the Peruvian Government commissioned the distinguished economist Sor Seoane to seek the co-operation of the River Plate Republics and Brazil in the project of a continental Congress. At that time it was a puzzle to many, why Peru displayed such an extraordinary interest in forming a S. American confederacy, but the cause was soon discovered, when the dignitaries of the Republic commenced butchering European immigrants in cold blood and defying the vengeance of an outraged flag. The project at first met with an unfavourable reception, but when the Spanish forces seized the Chincha islands, there was a pretext for reviving the scheme, and eight republics of the sixteen in this continent were induced to send representatives to the Congress of Lima.

The states so represented are the following:—

Guatemala—General Herrar.
New Grenada—D. Justo Arsemena.
Venezuela—D. Leocadio Guzman.
Ecuador—D. Vicente Piedrahilta.
Peru—D. Gregorio Paz Soldan.
Bolivia—D. Juan Cruz Benavente.
Chile—Ex-president Manuel Montt.
Argentine Republic—D. Domingo F. Sarmiento.
Empire of Brazil—D. Adolfo Varnhagen.

The states which have failed to accept the invitation are:—

The United States of America.
The Southern Confederate States.
The Oriental Republic of Uruguay.
The Republic of Paraguay.
The Republic of Costa Rica.
The Republic of San Salvador.
The Republic of Honduras.
The Republic of Nicaragua.

The Congress was to open on Oct. 15th, but we may predict a wretched failure, owing to the conflicting opinions and limited powers of its component parts. Of the eight states assisting, four are either hostile to the South American confederacy or wholly unable to co-operate therein. The remaining four are not agreed upon the question of Spain and Peru, and even if they were, their united force is as nothing compared with that of a nation which has already thrown down the gauntlet to the 16 republics of America.

If the Congress were assembled in any other capital but that of Peru, the result might be more propitious, but many states are naturally unwilling to take any responsibility in the massacre of Talambo. If the 16 republics of the new world all concurred, their action would be more imposing, but we have abundant proof that the eight plenipotentiaries now assembled will have a grand fracas before concluding their sessions.

Ecuador has formally demanded annexation to France on the same terms as Canada regarding Great Britain, and whether Napoleon grants the prayer or not, this republic is doomed to a lamentable civil war. Already the factions are in open campaign, and Peru lends the same moral (?) support to the rebels that Buenos Ayres has done in Banda Oriental. Garcia Moreno, President of Ecuador, is declared a traitor, and we can hardly understand how his deputy is received at the same council-board with the Peruvian and other representatives, as Sor. Piedrahitta must prove an apple of discord in the Congress.

New Granada cannot be expected to join in an anti-European league, as its relations with France and Spain are very brittle, and in the late difficulty about M. Mazarredo the Government shewed a disposition to listen to any just demands.

Venezuela is distracted with a civil war in which the province of Guayana has seceded from the republic, and it is likely other provinces will follow the example, splitting up the nation into a multitude of petty conflicting states.

Guatemala and all Central America will offer the most decided opposition to republican progress, having declared a wish to be annexed to the new empire of Mexico. President Carreras under date June 26th writes to the President of San Salvador advising him to labor for the annexation of that republic, as Guatemala and Honduras were ready for the step. "The new empire, he says, brings the rainbow of peace to Mexico, and revolutionary troubles being at an end, confidence and industry will flourish. Juarez is on his last leg, accompanied by a few bandits who will soon be scattered. On the return of Bishop Piñol, he will proceed to Nicaragua to arrange about annexation to Mexico, and in order to quell any disturbance M. Caberrus (French Minister) has promised to send some war vessels to these ports. Central Americn must be prepared for this change: in Guatemala, we are all for annexation, especially among the upper classes. Let us, my friend, work to this end, that peace and order may be secured. I am weary of these perpetual revolutions, and wish to die quietly in my bed, leaving to my children the fruits of my industry.

We find therefore only four republics able or willing to devise an united continental action, and even among these there is a grave divergence of sentiment.

Peru desires that the rest should make common cause against the demands of Spain, yet cannot positively count on one out of the 15 sister republics. The populace clamors for war, the Cabinet knows that it is absurd to grapple with Spain, the President fears both parties and can incline to neither, the Legislature is a confused assembly of ranters, and the deputy to the international Congress will find it difficult to represent all or any of such contradictory opinion.

Chile pretends to espouse the quarrel of the Chincas, but her assistance is confined to friendly expressions, and will hardly amount to more than a complimentary mission to Lima. The Chilian press is loud in protests, but the Government and people are almost indifferent.

Bolivia promised to call out her militia for the re-conquest of the Chincas, but having no fleet their services are unavailable. Moreover the country is so feverish that a revolution is hourly expected, of which the recent attempt at the theatre was an indication.

The Argentine Government has tied Sor. Sarmiento's hands, and limited his assistance to utter passiveness, simply listening to what may be said. He is not authorized to join the others in a declaration of war, if they had the folly or courage to decide on such a step.

Finally, the Empire of Brazil is mixed up in this incongruous Congress. Sor. Varnhagen must feel like "a fish out of water" among his republican confrères, and as Dom Pedro has recently allied himself with the rotten dynasty of Orleans, it is not likely he will act in common with the ultra-republicans and anti-Bourbonists.

In a word, the South American Congrers is a splendid farce, and the Spanish fleet in the Pacific will soon attract more notice than the old fogies assembled at Lima.

A HOLLOW FARCE.

There is a nation, the total population of which is estimated at one million. It is ruled by fourteen governors, eight hundred and seventy senators and deputies, seven thousand and fifty-six justices of the peace, twenty-three thousand one hundred alcaldes, ninety five thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine teniente alcaldes and policemen, fourteen thousand public clerks or employees, one President, or head man, with five grand ministers employed to advise him, and six thousand regular soldiers of the line at his service to obey him.

Our readers will, no doubt, imagine that a country boasting of such a troop of public employees, must be the safest and best governed on the face of the civilised globe; they may also be induced to suppose that as the officials are so numerous, they all work for nothing: furthermore, that life and property must be doubly secure in such a well-governed land.

But if we tell them that in such a nation a handful of savages plunder private property, murder the inhabitants, and lay waste the country, we feel convinced they will all in one voice cry out, "that the whole fabric of administration is but a hollow farce."

We have no desire to be unnecessarily severe upon President Mitre or his Government, but the recent Indian invasions compel us to call attention to the unprotected state of this country, which groans under the weight of its public employees. We pay taxes on every article, not excepting the very necessaries of life: we buy Government Bonds to support the nation's credit; we even import soldiers from Europe to maintain the authority of the land, and we ask indignantly what return does the nation get for such a heavy expenditure.

The Indians have ceased to be invaders, they are now highway robbers on our public roads: they approach the very suburbs of our most populous cities, and carry ruin and desolation into the very heart of the country.

People at home will not believe that we have a President and a standing army, when they read the harrowing particulars of the last invasion. Mr. Balcarce, when next he visits St. Cloud, will be asked what has become of the country which he represents, have the people all succumbed to the tomahawk and are the wigwams in the Plaza Victoria?

The plain fact of the matter is, that the country is in the most imminent danger from the gross negligence of the Government and the apathy of its rulers. We have such a legion of public men, power is so divided, responsibility so halved, that if the next news the Pavon brings us, is the capture of the Rosario Custom-house by the savages, nobody is to blame.

With all our public offices, clerks, and ministers, we have not what we want most of all, 'an Indian department.' General Gelly Obes, our War Minister, is busy from morning to night, what doing nobody knows. President Mitre is worked so hard, that he admits he has no time to attend to his favorite studies. Dr. Rawson cannot even remain in his house in Buenos Ayres, but is obliged to run up the rivers, and go from town to village to keep matters straight. Dr. Elizalde has to forego his trip to Europe with Mr. Lelong: the business of his office has increased so wonderfully during the last twelve months, that that minister now, since the Brazilians are in the river, can hardly find time to sleep. Dr. Costa admits that the state of public education in the interior is so neglected, that he is obliged to leave for Jujuy and Cuyo to establish schools; and as for Mr. Gonzalez, the paper dollar has him so occupied, that he positively has no time even to read the newspapers. The result is, that no one in the Government-house, from the President down to our friend, Dn. Juan Cruz O'Campo has time to even think about the Indians.

Such being the case, we think that the sooner each province is entrusted with the defence of its respective frontier the better for the provinces and the people residing in them. When Buenos Ayres was a separate and independent Government, the frontiers were well guarded; and when the Argentine Confederation had its headquarters at Parana, no one heard of the Indians, save at the very extremity of the pampas. In North America the Indian has proved the easiest enemy to vanquish. In the river Plate the tomahawk threatens our very existence.

IRELAND.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

In the belief that gossip about "home" may interest your numerous readers, I have attempted to string together a few events for insertion in the "Standard." In so doing I eschew political subjects and merely devote my pen to simple details of every-day occurrences. You will regret to hear that this year's harvest does not verify the sanguine expectations which a favorable spring and summer gave rise to; and that the material progress of the country is not advancing beyond a snail's pace. Indeed the leading bodies engaged in developing the reproductive industry of the country suffer from stagnation of trade; and falling incomes and decreasing dividends in mines, railways and kindred undertakings reveal the too patent fact that Ireland is far from prosperous. Emigration has fallen off during the past two months; but it is certain that large numbers will leave for New York on the final completion of the harvest. What a strange desire prevails among the majority of Irishmen to emigrate to the States, while the many advantages of your favored land are ignored! Surely the Irish peasant or agriculturist would fare better in your free State than among the American Yankees, who make no secret of their antipathy to Irish, Dutch, and German. But I must not enter into any further speculations on this head—leaving it to you and your Government to devise means of attracting strong arms and willing hands to give permanence to material prosperity, and solidity to public and political institutions.

The stirring yet painful events of the war in the States absorb the public mind here beyond all other subjects. Mails from New York arrive in quick succession; but such is the longing anxiety of the populace, that newsrooms, newspaper offices and other centres of intelligence are besieged by eager crowds for hours at a time, intent on gaining the first intimation of the success of the Federal arms. The artizan, laboring, and peasant class are heart and soul with the North; the employing class and capitalists devoted to the Confederates. Among the last-named, the belief gains ground that the cause of Southern independence is lost; and the condition of the Confederate armies so hopeless, that persistence in opposing the Federal force is a reckless waste of life. All parties here, however, pray that this fearful struggle may speedily end; for our poor countrymen have borne the brunt and heat of the conflict from its commencement.

Two events—the murder on the North London Railway, and the great international prize-fight—may be classed as only second in absorbing interest to the American war. I suppose you are already conversant with the details of the murder of Mr. Briggs and the somewhat extraordinary discovery of a clue to the supposed perpetrator of that cruel deed, Franz Müller? Strange to say the current of popular opinion is on the turn in favor of the unfortunate German, owing to some small facts coming to light which altogether overturn the strained deductions and foregone conclusions of the sensation writers of the London press. I will not assert any opinion as to Muller's guilt or innocence; but I would impress upon the readers of the 'Standard' the all-important fact that Muller will be tried by twelve men (six foreigners and six English),—and common justice and Christian charity demand that this man should be held innocent until twelve men conscientiously find him guilty.

The Lord Lieutenancy of Ireland is about to be abolished. The present Viceroy, the Earl of Carlisle, having retired to his estates in Yorkshire, owing to indisposition, his successor is Lord Wodehouse.

The British Parliament will be dissolved early in the spring of 1865, a general election immediately following, and the new Parliament will meet in November. The belief is entertained by leading politicians that Lord Palmerston will give over the leadership of the Whigs to the Right. Hon. W. Gladstone, at present Chancellor of the Exchequer, the great financier becoming Premier of Great Britain.

There is a good deal of discussion going on in Ireland relative to the working classes. Beef and mutton are so high priced that even mechanics earning good wages cannot purchase butcher's meat; and pork rules by the supply from America, which has fallen off lately. The jerked beef was becoming a favourite article of food with the people; but somehow or other local provision merchants obstructed its being vended by small dealers. This is a matter which agents of commercial houses should look after. Buenos Ayres would benefit by increased demand for this article alone, therefore the opposition of curers and provision merchants in Great Britain and Ireland should be at once grappled with.

AMERICAN NEWS.

SHERIDAN'S VICTORY.

Advices were received from New York to the 24th ultimo, on Thursday, by the National Steam Navigation Company's steamship Pennsylvania. The Times telegram is as follows:—"The latest accounts from the Shenandoah prove the first report of Sheridan's success on Monday to have been greatly exaggerated. Early's entire loss, it is now stated, did not exceed 6,000 men, while that of the Federals in killed and wounded alone was upwards of 4,500. At one time the Federals, mowed down by the Confederate artillery and musketry fire, were thrown into confusion, and were on the point of giving way, when, by a desperate charge of all his cavalry, Sheridan turned Early's right flank, and compelled him to retire. Early continued to fall back during the 20th, followed by Sheridan, and on the 21st made a stand at Fisher's hill, two and a half miles south of Strasburg. Sheridan attacked him in the evening, but was repulsed. Yesterday at four p.m., Sheridan renewed the attack, and after a severe conflict, lasting until dark, forced Early to evacuate the position with the loss of 16 cannon. Sheridan reports, at 11.30, p.m. on the 22d, that he is pursuing Early down the Shenandoah Valley. The losses in killed and wounded upon either side are not stated. Early is believed to have retired towards Stanton. General Fremont and Cochrane have formally withdrawn from the Presidential contest. There is yet no news of the expected conflict between the opposing forces on the Weldon Railway. Dispatches from Macon, Georgia, of the 17th. to the 'Richmond Inquirer,' state that Gen. Sherman had invited Governor Brown, of that state, and Vice-President Stephens, to Atlanta, to confer upon the subject of peace. Sherman and Hood have concluded the exchange of 2,000 prisoners upon either side, captured upon the recent battles at Atlanta and Jonesborough. The truce for the removal of the Atlanta inhabitants which expired on the 22d. has been extended. New Orleans letters of the 15th announce that, that, with the exception of the garrison left in Forts Morgan and Gaines, General Granger's forces, lately co-operating with Admiral Farragut in Mobile, have returned to that city. St. Louis dispatches of the 22nd state that General Price, with about twenty five thousand Confederate troops, has crossed Arkansas river, and is going northward.

DEATH OF GENERAL MORGAN.

When Gen. Morgan entered Greeneville, Tennessee, after first sending forward a guard, it had been ascertained that the enemy were not nearer than Bull's Gap, sixteen miles distant. The General established head-quarters at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Williams, near the centre of the town. Shortly after the advent of the guard in town, young Mrs. Williams (daughter-in-law of the lady at whose house General Morgan had his head-quarters) disappeared; a scout was sent, but could not find her, and as she returned with the enemy next morning it appears she had ridden all the way to Bull's Gap, and had given information of Morgan's whereabouts and the strength of the guard. Precautions having been taken to prevent egress from the town, General Morgan and his staff retired to rest, and, being greatly fatigued, slept very soundly. About 4 o'clock in the morning (September 4th) they were roused by the elder Mrs. Williams, who informed them that the Yankees had surrounded the house. The General and his staff sprang from their beds, armed themselves, and rushed out at the opposite door to that at which the Yankees were thundering. On the side of the house where they escaped is a very large yard and garden with a great deal of foliage and a vineyard. But the Yankees began to appear so thick and fast around them that concealment became hopeless, and they rushed out to attempt to fight their way through, in the hope of succor and assistance from the battalion near at hand. The General had directed Major Gassett to examine and see if there was any chance of escape from the front of the basement into the street. Major Gassett looked and replied that there was a chance, but it was a desperate one, which General Morgan did not hear, as at that instant the Yankees charged up to the fence separating the hotel from Mrs. William's grounds. The General, with Major Gassett, Captain Rogers, and Mr. Johnson, sprang out in the direction of the vineyard; the two latter were captured and the General killed. The latter had just fired his pistol, and was in the act of firing again when he fell. The General was determined never to surrender, and told members of his staff they must not give up. He was heard to say, "They have got us sure," when he drew his pistol and commenced firing. After Gen. Morgan had been killed, the unfeeling brutes who had murdered him threw his lifeless body across a horse, and paraded it through the streets. His body was subsequently sent through the lines by flag of truce—Southern Paper.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE.

Mr. Editor of the "Standard,"

Esteemed Sir,—

In reply to your remarks in to-day's paper respecting my department, I have to inform you that since July, 1858, an arrangement has existed with the managers of the Western Railway for keeping a box and despatching correspondence. If, therefore, the public have not availed themselves of such convenience, they have only themselves to blame, as all the means exist for speedy and regular transmission of letters, all the station-masters having been moreover supplied with stamps for franking the same, but they returned them stating that there was no demand.

Nevertheless, I have already proposed to Government the expediency of putting up an auxiliary post-office in the Plaza Parque.

I am, dear Sir,

The sudden rise in specie astonished some people on the Bolsa, as it was pretty generally believed that what with the Provincial Bank drawing bills of exchange, and the newspapers full of powerful paper dollar articles, patacons would run down to 28, or under to-day, but the value of paper to-day is ruled by the rate of exchange on England. Had the rate gone up, specie would most probably have gone down; unfortunately, however, it is precisely the other way: exchange is going down and specie up. We were assured by a leading English broker, that exchange for several thousand pounds sterling was passed at 48¾, to be paid for on the 25th inst. Takers are beginning to be very particular, and some of our first-class drawers refuse to draw, owing to the dangerous state of affairs at home.

There is little hope of an improved tone in our market, until we know the news from Europe by the French packet. Should money matters be in any worse state, owing to the news of Souto's failure, or the London and Portuguese bank be obliged to suspend, there can be no doubt that the paper dollar will temporarily suffer severely. A feeling of great caution exists therefore amongst our leading houses, and those who fail to obtain first class bills to remit are determined to ship gold. It was said on change that very probably one hundred thousand pounds would be shipped in sovereigns.

The wool market was rather dull today. In the South Plaza six carts were sold at from 87 to 85. The arrivals of wool from the country are beginning to diminish sensibly.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.

BENSON'S WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

Watch and Clock Maker, by Special Appointment, to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

Opinions of the London Press upon Benson's Great Clock and Watches in the Exhibition, 1862.

"As a sample of English clock work on a large scale, the works of this are probably the finest finished that have ever been seen in this country. No Chronometer could be fitted with more perfectness or carefully adjusted mechanism."—Times, June 11 1862.

"A triumph of ingenuity."—Telegraph March 11 1862.

"A more splendid and exquisitely finished piece of mechanism we have never seen."—Standard, June 17 1862.

"Some of them are of great beauty and if the English watch-trade only follow up with the same spirit and success this first attempt to compete with foreigners in decorative watches, there seems to be no reason why we should not get the trade entirely into our own hands."—Times, June 23, 1862.

"Ranged around the base of the clock were the Watches which Mr. Benson exhibited, and which have been universally admired for the beauty and elegance of the designs engraved upon them. The movements are of the finest quality which the art of horology is at present capable of producing. The clock and watches were objects of great attraction, and well repaid the trouble of an inspection."—Illustrated London News, November 8, 1862.
